CAREER

Although I am beginning my professional modeling career, I have built a strong artistic foundation through over 10 years of training in contemporary dance. I graduated from a performing arts school specializing in dance and received multiple awards in dance competitions while participating in numerous stage performances.

In addition to dance, I studied acting, which helped me develop natural facial expressions, emotional expression, confidence in front of the camera, and the ability to adapt to different concepts and characters.

I also attended a modeling academy for approximately two years, where I learned runway walking, posing, and the fundamentals of professional modeling. My background in dance and acting allows me to express movement and emotion naturally while working comfortably both on stage and in front of the camera.

I am currently pursuing opportunities in fashion, beauty, cosmetics, editorial, commercial, and advertising modeling. I am passionate about continuously improving myself and aim to become a professional model who is trusted for both creativity and professionalism.
